Notes/Datasources: Gauge catchments and conservation authority jurisdictional boundaries do not edge-match as they were derived from different source datasets, and according to different methodologies. The watershed boundary shown is the CA jurisdictional boundary, whereas the catchment boundaries were derived with current DEM and water flow network datasets. Refer to Table 3.6-1 in the Conceptual Understanding of the Water Budget (Mississippi-Rideau Source Protection Region, 2007) for details on surface water flow data used for flow rates shown here.
